

At Westwood, we agree and promise to:

Remember that we are role models and lead by example.

Work with each other to benefit student growth and learning.

Leave school business at school; finish here to avoid "parking lot" meetings.

Confront issues: if something affects us, get all of the facts. If not, it's not ours to share.

Carefront each other when things go wrong.

Be trustworthy, honor each other's secrets and keep school business confidential.

Be honorable, sincere and dependable.

Love each other for who they are and where they are.

Recognize that everyone is human and forgive each other's mistakes.

Be considerate of each other's feelings.

Show compassion and empathy; support and help one another in need.

Be open-minded and impartial.

Keep a positive attitude and say something positive to someone each day.

Value and honor time and procedures – begin and end on time as scheduled.

Encourage each other to use their strengths and talents in their jobs.

Look for opportunities to further our experience, abilities and knowledge.

Be prepared, be accountable, and do our best.

Take care of our equipment and be mindful of conserving our resources.

Pick up after ourselves.

Be willing to go the extra mile; if something needs to be done, just do it!

Treat each other with respect, even when there are personality conflicts.

Voice our thoughts and listen to each other.

Speak courteously to one another.

Take turns, play by the rules, and treat each other fairly.

Do what we are supposed to do.

Use self-control and be self-disciplined.

Express gratitude.

Have each other's backs.

Follow the Golden Rule; deal peacefully with disagreements and anger.

Adhere to Westwood rules and guidelines.
